TOWN of MEXICO, N. Y. CEMETERIES

Mexico Village Cemetery

Mexico Village cemetery was opened in 1838. The first burial in the new public cemetery was that year. Smaller lots had been used on the land before that date and earlier stones can be found near the road in the Southeast section of the "old part". The vault was built in 1887 and the Soldiers Monument was dedicated in 1889. Land was purchased across Black Creek in 1909 to make a large addition to the cemetery. More land has been bought in recent years to meet the expanding needs of the community.

The cemetery is just North of Main Street on Academy Street.

Introduction

Edith Austin Moore and Elizabeth Simpson did the first cemetery census for the eight cemeteries in Mexico around 1930. It was never published, but was used by Miss Simpson in her research of Mexico and its families. These papers were very helpful to get true dates and names from stones that were worn or broken when the census was begun fifty years later.

In 1979, the State Education Department requested all historians in the state do a census of the cemeteries in their townships. Mexico's historian, Mrs. Euloda Fetcha, accepted the challenge and attended training workshops on how to read the stones and prepare the census. The project began that year. During the next three summers, eight to twelve volunteers met Mrs. Fetcha at the assigned cemetery one or more times a week. A total of approximately 24 volunteers helped with the project before it was done. The cemetery was divided into sections and teams of two, a reader and a writer, were assigned to each section. The stones were chalked when necessary to bring out names or dates, and brushes removed the lichen covering a stone. All the epitaphs were carefully copied and any design or addition on a stone was described. All the worksheets with this information are on file in the Town Historian's office.

The next step involved a team of volunteers who worked with Mrs. Fetcha to check the village cemetery, and other cemeteries who maintained records, against the worksheets. The vital statistic records were open at that time, so death records could be checked to add names of those who lie in unmarked graves. When the research was done the information was typed on index cards and then into the first edition of the cemetery census.

Mrs. Fetcha knew there were some mistakes, some information that we could clarify, and omissions in the Colosse cemetery that we could put in to complete the list. She wanted to do a second edition but unfortunately she died before the revision began. It has taken several years to complete the book without her help and guidance. The task began by checking the first edition of the census against the worksheets. Information that needed clarification might have been the name of a second spouse, a person listed in the wrong cemetery, being sure the right parents were given, and spelling of names. These problems, and more, took hours to check by going to scrapbooks, Miss Simpson's card file, and the clipping files. The goal was to make the information as correct and complete as possible.

The purpose of the book is to aid those tracing their roots in Mexico. The information may, or may not, be as it is on the stone. For example, the names of both spouses is given if appropriate, a married lady is cross-referenced, and sometimes the names of parents is given. All the Mexico cemeteries are in one volume for ease in looking for family names of those who have lived and died in Mexico. It is hoped those using this census will find it helpful.

Colosse Cemetery

Colosse was one of our earliest settlements and the cemetery one of our oldest. The Baptist Church was built next to the burial ground and the church takes care of it to this day. The earliest grave is 1813.

The cemetery is on the East side of State Route 11 in Colosse approximately five miles from Mexico.

French Street Catholic Cemetery

St. Ann's Cemetery

This cemetery served the Catholic settlers of French Street. These people came from the Alsace-Lorraine area of France and several inscriptions are written in French. The cemetery was first used in 1841.

The cemetery is on the West side of French Street about one mile from State Route 69, about a total of six miles from the Village of Mexico.

French Protestant Cemetery

The French Street Protestant Cemetery served the French and other immigrants who were not Catholic. Many of the bodies and stones have been moved to Parish or Central Square. The first known burial is 1841.

The cemetery is on the East side of State Route 11 South of Colosse, about six miles from the Village of Mexico.

Maple View Cemetery

*Maple view was originally called Union Square.
The settlement was a popular stopping place for both east-west and north-south travelers. Families from the eastern side of Mexico Township buried their loved ones here.*

The earliest known grave is 1823.

The cemetery is on the East side of State Route 11 North of Maple View Corners, approximately four miles from Mexico village.

Primitive Cemetery

George Scriba donated land for the settlement's first public cemetery in 1809. The first burial was in 1809 although the grave was not marked for many years. It is the 2nd largest cemetery in Mexico and many of our earliest settlers are buried here.

The cemetery is on the North side of the Tubbs Road approximately one mile from the village.

Family Cemeteries

Pioneers were obliged to bury their dead on home lots until the Primitive Cemetery opened in 1809. Some families continued the tradition for many years. Three family cemeteries are still found in the Town of Mexico.

Silas Town Monument at Mexico Point Park

Silas Town, a spy during the American Revolution, is buried on a small island at Mexico Point Park. A monument marks his burial place.

Oswego County Home Cemetery

There was a cemetery next to the Oswego County Home for patients who had no family, or the means, for burial in the public cemeteries. It is not known if this census is complete because the cemetery was destroyed when the County Home was taken down.
